New York, New York.

Dear Mr. Robertson:

I have tried in vain to reach you on the telephone all this morning and so I have had to resort to writing.

When I saw you yesterday, I think I gave you a list of the coins which we should like to have photographed. Would you be so kind as to make us two prints so that we get both sides of the coin?

Among the coins, photographs of which we are especially interested in obtaining are the first Joachimsthaler, dated 1525, Greek and Roman coins, one each of those designed by Leonardo de Vinci and Benvenuto Cellini, an oriental coin of any kind which you think interesting and if there is room, any which you might suggest as having an educational value.

Please bill us for these and we should very much appreciate getting the prints as soon as possible.

Sincerely yours,

Sidonie Kronman

Dear Madam:

I have your letter of the 28th and I cannot understand why you could not reach us by telephone on Saturday. Our offices are open till five o'clock and the telephone was not out of order.

I shall have the prints of the coins you wish in about a week.

Very truly yours,

Assistant to the Curator.

Dear Sirs:

Herewith the photographs ordered by your Miss Sidonie
Kronman according to her order of recent date.

As the coins were of such different tonal qualities,
being patinated bronze, silver and gold, we enclose several prints for your selection. The harshness of the prints is accounted for by the strong oxidization of the silver coins.

A chart is enclosed describing the several coins, together with bill for the work done.

Very truly yours,

Assistant to the Curator.
